Across cultures and throughout history, goddess archetypes have represented powerful qualities within women, such as courage, wisdom, creativity, compassion, and inner strength. Yet many women today underestimate these qualities within themselves.

In this inspiring address, Bindu will introduce the concept of goddess archetypes as a framework for personal empowerment. Drawing partly from her doctoral research in metaphysics exploring feminine archetypes and consciousness, she will share how understanding and working with these archetypes can help women reconnect with their inner voice, recognize the extraordinary strength within their own story, and step forward with greater confidence, clarity, and purpose.

About Bindu Bodanapu - Dr. Bodanapu is a Spiritual Wellness & Leadership Coach, the Founder of The Conscious Leadership Academy, a TEDx Speaker, and an Awardee at the British Parliament.

Bindu has more than 23 years of experience as a senior leader in Accounting, Finance, and IT, having led complex financial operations for major multinational organizations with clarity, discipline, and strategic insight.

Her personal journey into meditation, mindfulness, and metaphysics opened the door to deeper purpose and balance, inspiring her transition from corporate leadership to transformational coaching.

Today, she coaches leaders navigating high pressure and change. Through spiritual coaching, mindfulness practices, and metaphysical principles, she helps leaders reduce stress, overcome burnout, and reconnect with their inner clarity. Her mission is to guide them toward purposeful, aligned, and fulfilling lives.
